Study Abroad & Exchange Guide

Welcome

Vice-Chancellor's Welcome

Macquarie is a university on the move. It's our aim to push Macquarie into the top eight research universities in Australia and the top 200 in the world. And we're well on the way – boosting our research effort and ensuring our learning and teaching is of the highest class.

Macquarie has continued its rise up the Shanghai Jiao Tong University Academic Rankings of World Universities, moving up 17 places from 286th in the world in 2007 to 269th in 2008. Macquarie is currently ranked ninth in Australia. International students play an essential role in Macquarie's campus community; more than 8,600 international students studied at Macquarie in 2008, making up nearly 30 per cent of the student body.

One of the benefits of attending an Australian university is the opportunity to meet students from around the world – and here at Macquarie we have one of the country's most diverse international student bodies. Social and cultural events across the campus, supported by our dedicated International Office, help to make students from any cultural background feel at home.

Today's Macquarie is an advanced research university, with strong links to government, industry and the community. It has exceptional study, social and sporting facilities. And as good as we are, we're about to get better.

I look forward to welcoming you at Macquarie University in the near future.

Professor Steven Schwartz
Vice-Chancellor

LIFE IN Sydney

Studying at Macquarie University will give you the opportunity to experience life in one of the world's most beautiful and cosmopolitan cities. Sydney has been voted as one of the world's top ten cities (for more than a decade) by leading US travel magazine, Travel + Leisure (1996–2008).

PEOPLE

Sydney is one of the most multicultural cities in the world with more than 25 per cent of Sydney's residents born overseas and a further 20 per cent are the children of migrants. With a population of over four million, Sydneysiders come from 180 different nations and speak 140 different languages.

LIFESTYLE

Most social activities in Sydney focus around Sydney's stunning waterways. With more than 70 beaches along the city's coastline, and 135km of harbour foreshore, there are plenty of waterside locations to swim, surf or relax.

WEATHER

Sydney has a temperate climate and is pleasant most of the year. Summer (December to February) temperatures are usually above 24°C, with the occasional day over 30°C. Winter (June to August) temperatures range from 10°C to 22°C.

PASSIONS

Food: With a reputation for fresh produce and diverse cuisine, Sydney is filled with cafés, bars and restaurants to suit any budget. If you prefer homecooking, a huge range of ingredients are available in both major supermarkets and specialty stores throughout Sydney.

Festivals and art: Throughout the year, Sydney is alive with free outdoor concerts celebrating the arts: from film to opera and jazz.

Sport: Sydneysiders love sport, from cricket in summer to rugby league and Aussie rules (AFL) in winter. Basketball, soccer and many other sports are played year-round – there are always plenty of teams to join, and to support!

PRESTIGE

Many of the world's leading companies choose to locate their Australian headquarters in Sydney. Companies such as Microsoft, Sony, Optus, Philips, Canon and Fujitsu are located within a five kilometre radius of Macquarie University.

HISTORY

Sydney was the first place in Australia to be colonised by the British in 1788. Many of the beautiful stately sandstone buildings from the early days of the colony remain, now surrounded by modern glass skyscrapers.

Aussie Slang

Australians have created many new words and phrases over the country's 200-year history. Aussies are particularly keen on shortening words and adding an 'ie' or 'o' at the end.

Aussie: Australian
 Barbie: Barbeque
 Uni: University
 Sunnies: Sunglasses
 Arvo: Afternoon
 Doco: Documentary film
 Muso: Musician

Cost of living

Your budget will depend on the lifestyle you choose to lead (eating out or self-catering, living on or off campus, personal Australia-wide vacation expenses). Generally, with housing costs included, you should allow between AU$8,000 and AU$10,000 per semester for your living expenses.

Almost every major nationality on campus has a club, including French, Chinese, Spanish and Japanese, to name a few.

Macquarie's student-run Study Abroad and Exchange club, "Club Exchange" is also active on campus. "Club Ex" as it's known, organises fun events for local and international students, including visits to major sporting events, dolphin cruises and winery tours.
