APPLICATION DEADLINES

Students wishing to begin their Study Abroad Program in their chosen term should ensure that their applications reach the University two months before their proposed commencement date.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Prospective international students interested in applying for admission to a Study Abroad Program can either apply directly to the University through Newcastle International or through an official overseas representative of the University. Details of the University's official representatives are available on the key contacts page or at www.international.newcastle.edu.au/04enquiries/representatives_database.asp

Detailed below are six stages in the application process.

Stage one – applying for a place in a Study Abroad Program

Decide on the courses you wish to study and complete the application form. If an application form is not available, contact the study abroad office in Newcastle International (refer to Key Contacts) or an official representative of the University in your country.

Complete all relevant sections of the application form and attach certified copies of all academic transcripts confirming your current program of studies (including all grades for all courses taken). It is essential that you indicate which courses and the respective course code for each course you wish to study.

Send the completed application form directly to Newcastle International at the University or to an official representative of the University in your country.

Stage two – waiting for a response

Successful applicants will receive from Newcastle International an offer of a place which will provide information on the tuition fees, health insurance fees, the date of commencement of the program of study and the refund policy. (If an application is unsuccessful, applicants will receive an explanatory letter.)

Stage three – accepting the offer

In order to accept your offer in the Study Abroad Program, you will be required to submit an acceptance and pay a deposit as outlined in your Letter of Offer. There are two alternative methods of acceptance and payment:

Accepting your offer online:

To accept and pay online, please visit the following web site

<http://studentinfo1.newcastle.edu.au/ims/index.cfm?action=login>

Navigate to International Application Services and then select Applications/Offer to accept an offer and pay the deposit. The format for the username and password can be found on your offer letter. The format is as follows:

User name – aXXXXXXX
[Reference Number/Student Number]

Password – DDMMYYYY [Date of Birth]

Accepting your offer by fax or by post:

Should you decide to accept a place at the University of Newcastle, please complete the Offer Acceptance and forward it to Newcastle International together with the deposit outlined in your Letter of Offer. The payment should be in the form of an international bank draft/cheque made payable to the University of Newcastle. Please write your full name on the back of the bank draft/cheque. The bank draft/cheque can either be sent directly to Newcastle International at the University or given to an official representative of the University in your country.

Once the acceptance and payment has been received by the University, you will receive a Confirmation of Enrolment, which is required for completing your application for a student visa at the Australian Diplomatic Post in your country.

A compulsory Overseas Student Health Cover payment will come out of your deposit.

Stage four – applying for a student visa

In order to apply for a student visa, you will need to visit the Department of Immigration and Citizenship (DIAC) website: www.immi.gov.au/students/index.htm

You will be required to complete an online application using relevant information supplied on your Confirmation of Enrolment. You will be required to pay a visa application fee. You can find visa application and fee information on the DIAC website.

Stage five – arranging accommodation in Newcastle or on the Central Coast

The University strongly suggests that you book an air ticket as soon as you receive the Confirmation of Enrolment.

Decide on the type of accommodation you wish to have at Newcastle or on the Central Coast. Information regarding the many types of available accommodation together with key contact details are provided in the campus and city living section of this brochure.

Stage six – arriving in Newcastle or Ourimbah

When you arrive in Sydney, you will need to transfer (either by air, rail or bus) to Newcastle or Ourimbah, depending upon where you will be studying. Information on how to transfer from Sydney to Newcastle or Ourimbah is available in the arrival section of this brochure.

Once you have arrived, you should go to the International Student Support team on the Callaghan campus or the International Student Support Officer on the Ourimbah campus as soon as you can. Staff will be able to assist you with opening a bank account, the orientation program and where you should go for your enrolment session.

All international students are expected to participate in the University's orientation program which usually occurs one or two weeks before classes begin. An orientation program for newly arrived international students has been purposefully designed and includes information on enrolment, campus facilities and associations, public transport, shopping and recreational activities, a guide to either Newcastle or Ourimbah and the Central Coast (whichever is applicable) and social functions.
