OFF-CAMPUS ACCOMMODATION

Share houses

Like many students, you may wish to share a house with other students in a local Perth suburb, or you may choose privately rented accommodation. Depending on your lifestyle, you may choose to rent a single room from a house that is occupied by several other people or, alternatively, you can take on an entire lease for a single property yourself.

In a share house, you will have your own room, but amenities such as kitchens and bathrooms will generally be shared with your housemates. Students living together in shared accommodation will often have rules for inviting guests over. They will share the payment of utilities and the usage and clean-up of common areas. Shared accommodation is a great option if you're not wanting to live by yourself and are wanting to make friends with both local and international students and non-students.

The Murdoch Student Guild has an accommodation database that lists rooms available for rent

murdoch.studystays.com.au

Alternatively, the Real Estate Institute of Western Australia also lists available rentals around Perth reiwa.com.au/rent

- Enjoy the local community and culture with advice from local experts.

EXPAND YOUR EXPERTISE

You can choose one or two majors for most courses, or combine two degrees.

Specialising in two areas will expand your expertise, broaden your career options and give you a competitive edge in your career. For example, you could study a Bachelor of Business with majors in Accounting and Finance as a double major, or a Bachelor of Laws and a Bachelor of Criminology as a combined degree. Depending on what you choose to study, a double major won't necessarily take any longer than a single major to complete, but a combined degree will take an extra year or two, compared to a single degree.

“ I chose to study the Bachelor of Business because I have always been passionate about numbers and the way share markets and money are managed. To me, understanding how to analyse and predict situations with the use of numbers is one of the most integral parts of today’s society. Learning how to manage and interpret accounts and financial statements for companies is one of my favourite parts about my degree. ”

“ In the middle of high school, I realised that game design was a potential career for me, and one I knew I’d enjoy. I’d always wanted to go to university, so I started looking for university degrees that could help make my dream a reality. I realised that Murdoch could offer me a direct pathway to the career of my dreams, and from that day my heart was set on Murdoch. I really liked the atmosphere on campus, and the staff and students I met were always friendly and attentive, which all made me feel comfortable and welcome. Even after four years here, I wouldn’t dream of studying anywhere else. ”

“ I am a lover of listening and making music. I’ve started to learn multiple instruments, but I’m most passionate about the drums. I was disappointed that I didn’t receive the ATAR I had hoped for in Year 12, and therefore applied for Murdoch through the OnTrack enabling pathway. Prior to coming to Murdoch, I wanted to study a degree in Commerce, but through OnTrack I discovered my passion for Creative Arts. As soon as I started at Murdoch I fell in love with the culture and the method of teaching Murdoch offered. I was overwhelmed by the support available to me. ”

Engineering

“ After studying at two other Perth universities, I chose to study at Murdoch because of the friendly vibe on campus. The Murdoch culture is about community, teamwork and helping each other out. The engineering courses offered at Murdoch are in line with the future of industry. Unlike other universities, Murdoch is focussed on preparing us for what the industry will be, not what it currently is. My main interest was in renewable energy engineering as caring for the environment is one of my core values. I decided to add electrical power engineering to my degree as I felt that both majors went hand in hand. ”

“ Having never heard about Chiropractic Science before starting at Murdoch, I transferred degrees and I am now working towards becoming a Chiropractor myself. Although I am the only international student from mainland China in my course, I have never felt lonely or isolated. All my classmates and the staff members here are so kind and they're always ready to help me with any questions or issues I have. There are always a lot of interesting activities going on at the university, such as various festivals, Thursday markets and volunteering opportunities; which all help me to enjoy the multicultural life here. Being a volunteer for the school Open Day was definitely a gorgeous and unforgettable experience. Not only does helping others bring me a lot of joy, but I felt so proud when introducing my university to others. ”

We also have a veterinary teaching hospital, complete with an exotic animal clinic, cancer and dermatology clinics, a 24-hour emergency centre and an equine centre with operating theatres specially designed for horses. Whilst gaining technical, hands-on experience, you'll be overseen by our highly trained and experienced staff members.

DISCOVER INDUSTRY PARTNERSHIPS

Use our partnerships, across industry and government, to take your course learnings to the next level. From the Perth Zoo, animal shelters, the WA Department of Primary Industries and Regional Development to a wide range of farms and veterinary practices, both in Australia and internationally, there are plenty of opportunities to expand on your experience. You could even go global and take your learning overseas like our Forensic Biology and Toxicology students did in 2019 when they were immersed in crime scene investigations on a trip to Malaysia. They observed an autopsy in a hospital morgue, learned more about the use of insects in solving crimes, took part in crime scene investigation simulations and explored mass disaster procedures in Malaysia.

LEARN FROM LEADING LECTURERS

Murdoch is a proud community that supports and leads a range of research institutes and centres that help make world-changing discoveries. These include the Harry Butler Institute, Health Futures and the Food Futures Institute. But we're also home to supportive academic and professional staff members who want you to succeed, build your personal networks and undertake research on your own terms. Our leading academics don't just challenge conventional wisdom and tackle some of the world's big issues—they're finding answers. You'll be part of this community, studying alongside our world-class researchers and beginning your personal research journey.

“Initially I didn’t even think that I could get into university and so had given up on my childhood dream of being a marine biologist a long time ago. After attending a university fair in Singapore, I found out that I could actually pursue my dreams at Murdoch and so I worked hard and never looked back. I love being able to learn about new topics through my course and being exposed to things that I never would have been able to see back in Singapore. As part of my course I have been able to see a range of plants and animals that I had previously only seen on National Geographic as a kid, which has been a great experience.”

“Murdoch provided me with an abundance of opportunities to grow exponentially. As an international student, my options to study across the world were endless. I toured multiple campuses, however it was Murdoch that held a lasting effect on me. I was welcomed with open arms.

I had chosen to study psychology with the intention to practice as a psychologist. However, I have since come to acknowledge that this isn't the only career path available to me through my degree. During my time at Murdoch I have not only been provided with educational support but also support from fellow students.”

GRADUATE READY TO STEP INTO A REAL CLASSROOM

Leave Murdoch feeling confident and ready to take on a real classroom, as you experience more than 585 hours of practical placements.

We offer the most extensive range of practical placements out of any university in WA. This means you won't be confined to only metropolitan placements either, as you can choose to also undertake on-the-job training in regional, rural and remote schools.

Or if you want to build upon your cultural awareness, there's also the option of conducting your work experience in international schools in Singapore, Thailand or China. We also offer placements for specific interests, such as at special needs and inclusive education centres and at Islamic, Catholic or Christian schools.

As a degree requirement you'll build an online portfolio that showcases, for future employers, your accumulated experience and complete literacy and numeracy requirements (LANTITE). You'll also be supported to fulfil the regulatory requirements for your Teacher Performance Assessment.

“ I have been interested in IT since I was very young. I love programming and software development, so I knew the computer science degree presented plenty of opportunity for me to hone in on these skills. I also applied to Murdoch because they offered the Westpac Young Technologists scholarship. I knew this would provide me with industry experience throughout my degree and set me up with the networking and connections needed to succeed once I graduate.

The people at Murdoch are very friendly, and staff are always available to lend a hand and help you out. There is also a tonne of useful IT resources available to students on campus, including the IT labs which are kitted out nicely. ”

Once Murdoch has received your Acceptance of Offer documents and payable deposit, we will issue you an electronic Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE), which then allows you to begin your visa application process through the Department of Home Affairs.

ORGANISING YOUR STUDENT VISA

All international students require a valid visa in order to study in Australia. You can apply for your student visa by either visiting the Department of Home Affairs website, or with the assistance of your agent.

In addition to your Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE), you may be required to provide other documentation as part of your visa application, including financial, health insurance, and language skills evidence.

Please note, if you are under the age of 18, the Australian Government requires additional documents in regard to accommodation, support and welfare arrangements, before the University will be able to accept you into the course and issue you with a CoE.

GET STARTED

Once your acceptance is processed, you'll be able to activate your student account, using the Murdoch Student Number in your Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE).

Your student number is your Murdoch identification, and is used as your username to log in to the Murdoch website. After activating your student account and creating a password, you'll be able to enrol in units and choose your timetable.

You're nearly ready to kick-start your exciting new adventure at Murdoch! Now you will need to go online to prepare your timetable, enrol in your units and sign-up for classes.

To make things easier, you can start your enrolment process by going to our online Orientation page at murdoch.edu.au/Orientation

Here we will guide you through the enrolment process and all the necessary information so you will be ready for the start of studies in no time at all.
